

FRANK
PARTRIDGE

An Italian Giltwood Console Table Made in Rome,

Circa 1740

52 x 29 x 32.5 in high (132 x 73.5 x 82.5 cm)

The rectangular marble top with central Spanish Brocatelle within a border of black above a moulded Sienna frieze, with a pierced scrolling foliate apron centred by a female mask, on square sectioned inverted baluster supports with beaded collar and acanthus scrolls, decorated with grotesque masks and husk trails, joined by X-shaped acanthus wrapped stretchers, centred by a circular platform headed by a flaming urn similarly carved with a grotesque mask, and terminating in turned feet.